WE'RE MORE THAN JUST ACCOMMODATION...

Once you have stayed at the University of Reading you will realise just how many different buildings of interest there are on the University campuses for potential filming. The University of Reading campuses are really well located, providing a great opportunity for those moments you need to film outside of the studio.

The Venue Reading Team now offer the University campus as a film location. Our impressive Whiteknights, London Road and Greenlands Estates boast a variety of building styles, ranging from traditional buildings designed in the early 20th Century, to modern buildings featuring modern scientific settings.

SUSTAINABILITY

Sustainability is at the heart of what we do at the University of Reading (its one of our guiding principals), and we know it will be important for you too whilst working on the film and TV productions at Shinfield Studios.

The University of Reading has been ranked as the number one university in the UK in the latest People & Planet University League table. The University climbed 3 places to claim the top spot in the 2023/2024 rankings. Our University was also awarded the Times Higher Education Award from our work on the world-class research in climate change and its impacts, and our leadership driving the action through education and partnerships.

As one of the University's four strategic principles, environmental sustainability is critical to the institution's mission. The University aims to maximise its influence and convening power to achieve meaningful change through a range of measures. Some of these include:

- World-leading climate research: Six Reading scientists were IPCC Sixth Assessment Report 1 lead authors and attended COP26 as an official observer organisation.
- Increasing awareness of and accessibility to information about our changing climate: Our climate stripes graphic has gained international traction for its simplicity, reaching millions to 'start climate conversations'
- Driving transformational change in climate education
- Sector-leading commitment to on-campus sustainability: including improving biodiversity across our campus and utilising it as a 'living lab', delivering access and benefits to our staff, students and local community.
- Partnering for the planet: collaborating locally, nationally and internationally across a diverse range of initiatives and sectors e.g., NHS, Reading Football Club and Microsoft.

We are also giving food more thought, we lead the way on food science, agriculture and climate change research, employing experts in the field to discover new ways to help our planet thrive. We are committed to source as much as possible from the UK Farmers and Producers. Product sourcing takes into account locality, prioritising local sources (beef from our own farms), then regional (South of England), then National (UK). We recognise that hospitality operations can have a huge impact on the environment. To tackle this, we're committed to delivering services that are environmentally sustainable. As Venue Reading is a self-funded service of the University, we are committed to consistent improvement around sustainability in a manner that is financially sustainable to allow us to continue to invest in this area.

All our physical outlets have been independently audited and certified through the Sustainable Restaurant Association's Food Made Good scheme awarding us the maximum of three stars.

Our Whiteknights campus has also been recognised as one of Britain's top green spaces for the 12th year in a row. Read more here.
